BARRINGER HIGH SCHOOL
NEWARK, NEW JERSEY

OUR ALMA

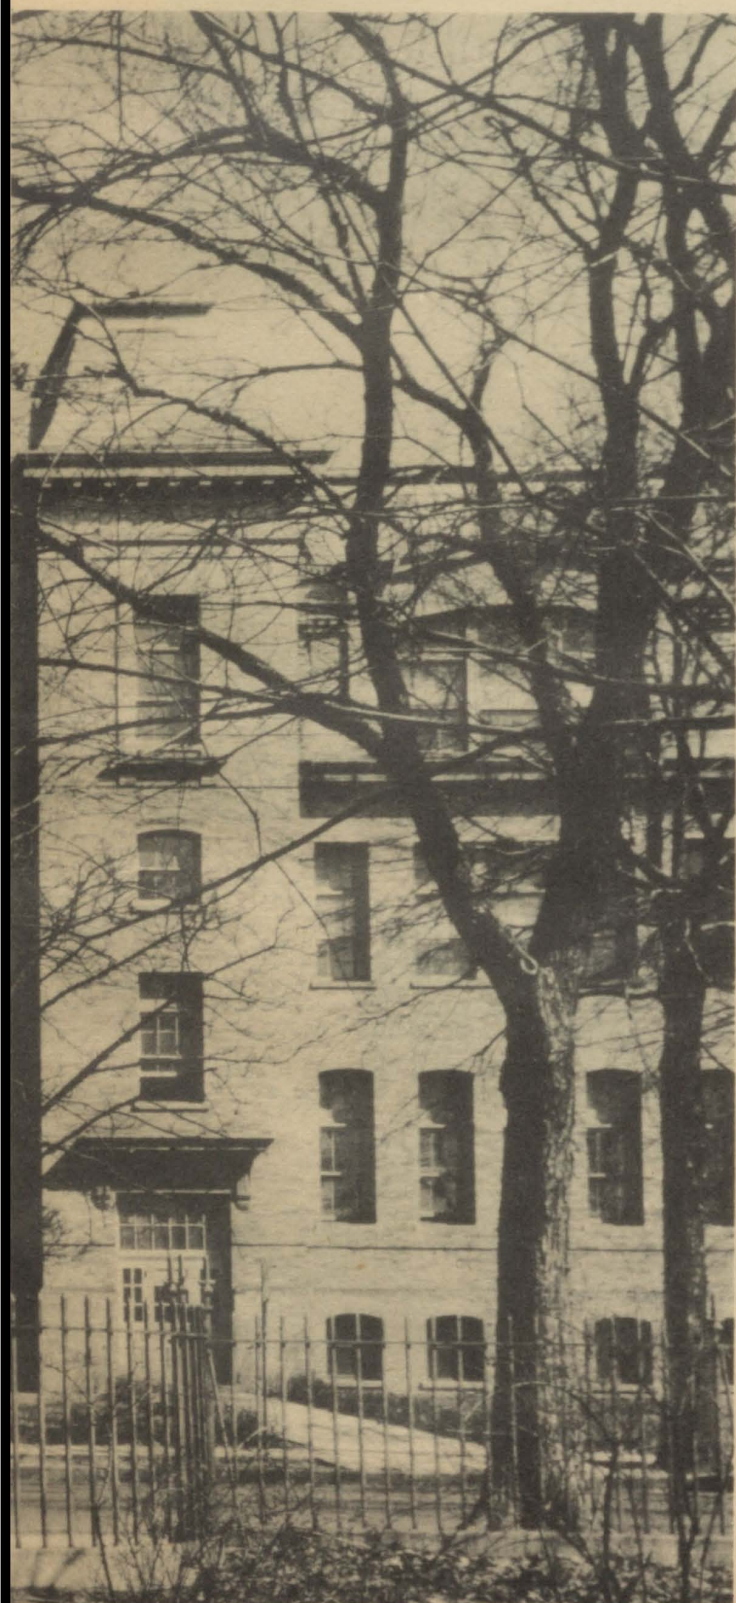

MATER PROUD

ALMA MATER

By JUNIUS W. STEVENS—1924

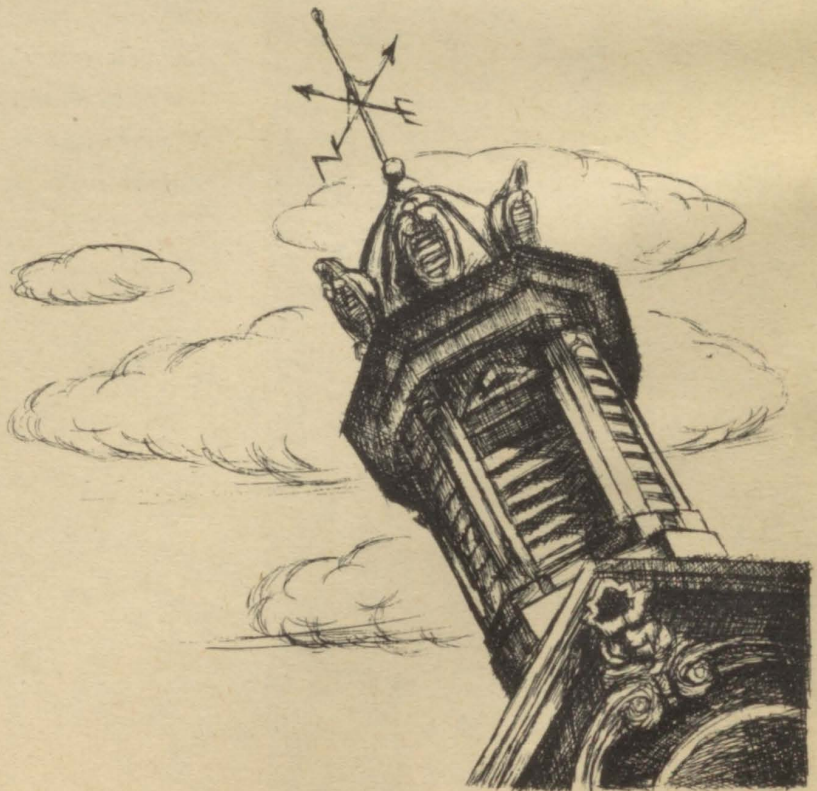

*Over many a city old,
Famed in song and story
Temple gray and castle hold
Catch the sunset glory.
So our Alma Mater proud
Looks o'er vale and meadow,
High between the sailing cloud
And its drifting shadow.*

*For her colors, first the blue
Of the April valley;
Then December's wintry hue
When the storm winds rally.
Newark High, thy fame we raise,
Many voices blending;
Through the years we pledge thee praise,
Loyal to life's ending.*

To the Spirit of Barringer, we dedicate this, our book.

To Truth, Honor, and Light, we dedicate these, our lives.

CHALLENGE

"Let us raise up a standard to which the wise and honest can repair."

GEORGE WASHINGTON

During our four years in Barringer we, the class of June, 1944, have had the pleasure and privilege of being a part of the greatness and the tradition for which this school stands. We now face the world with all its darkness, insecurity, and bitter strife. A world at war challenges us. It challenges us to aid our country with the skills we have developed while gaining a sound and well-rounded education; it challenges us to put into practice those fundamentals of democracy that we have come to appreciate in our school years.

The unbounded opportunity to be of service to our country calls for the best that we have to offer. What greater contribution can we make to the world than that of Barringer's spirit? In Barringer we have participated in the processes of democracy; we have learned to work together harmoniously and with deep understanding and good feeling for our fellow man. Now we must strive to make democratic principles more universal and to do our part in giving Barringer's spirit to the whole human race. By raising up the standard of Truth, Honor, and Light for all the world to see, we shall have done our part in helping to insure a just and lasting peace.

THROUGH THE YEARS

RETROSPECT

*My burdened memory recalls
How we, as freshmen, filled these halls.
Oh, our disgust and disillusion,
Banished hopes and sheer confusion,
When we learned our Alma Mater
Was minus a "pink elevator"!*

*Then sober sophs, so very wise,
Studied first as the name implies,
'Mid circles, tangents, secants buried,
We dreaded math. Oh, how we worried!
With world renown anticipated,
We led a life sophisticated.*

*In junior year we felt the urge
To be where fun and frolic merge.
At 3:15 to clubs we tore
Or yelled at Big Blue's football score.
We took a peep at fencers prancing
And joined a class in ballroom dancing.*

*As high and mighty seniors now
The undergrads we shall endow
With all the wisdom we have gained
And all the marks that have us pained,
It took some doing to reach this height;
Thru chem lab smoke, the end's in sight.*

OUR ALMA MATER SPEAKS

Our Alma Mater is old.
She is old and she is proud.
Four times she has sent her sons to war.
And this is what she taught them:

"There is but one way of life if you would live in peace and happiness. It is the way of Truth, Honor, and Light."

She sent her sons to war
They fought and won;
But neither peace nor happiness endured.
And sorrowing she spoke again.

She said:

"I have given you books, books for friends and books for counsellors. But Truth I cannot give you. Truth is an achievement; go win it. Honor, too, is an achievement, no bequest. Work for Truth and Honor."

One hundred and six years old is she.
And she is wise, wise with the wisdom of years;
And she is strong, strong with the strength of knowledge.
Anew our Alma Mater speaks;

She says:

"Sons and daughters of Barringer, it is the eternal struggle between right and wrong that faces you. If peace is to be yours, you must follow the Light that gives understanding of men and nations. Bear the responsibility; show the democratic way that all may have a 'new birth of freedom and that government of the people, by the people,' and for the people shall spread throughout the whole round earth."

This is what our Alma Mater says.

CLASS SONG

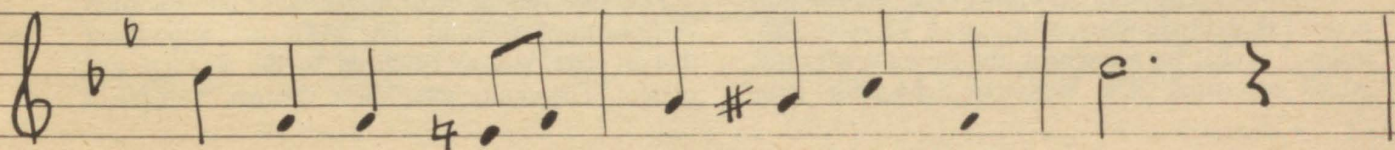

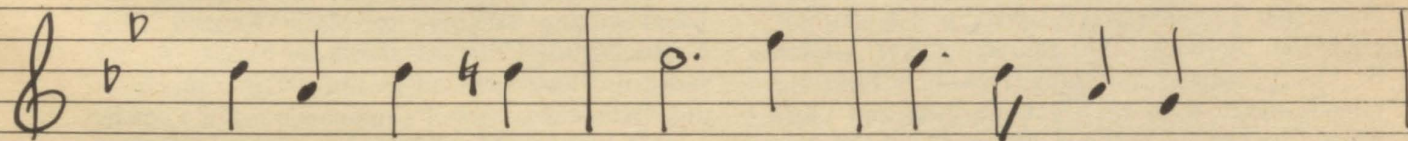

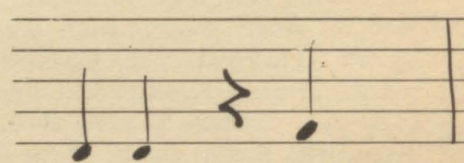

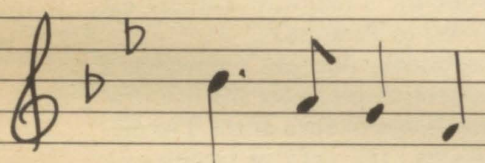

I

*Beloved Alma Mater,
You've given us your all;
And now we venture out to win
The world that's at our call.
We leave your lake-bound campus
Your sun-drenched spires of fame,
But from each heart
Will ne'er depart
The glory of your name!*

II

*Beloved Alma Mater,
Our hope, like yours, is bright;
And at our side is found your guide
Of Honor, Truth, and Light.
You'll be to other classes,
As you have been to us,
The school supreme,
Our golden dream
Of days so glorious!*

CLASS PROPHECY

As we turned from Park Avenue onto Ridge one fine spring night, we saw J. P. Gaitens, III, just ahead of us. He appeared to be having trouble with a cartload of Harold Rockaway's super Rock a' Bye Specials. Knowing he was bound for the twenty-year reunion of the Class of June, 1944, we hurried to his assistance.

When we reached a new and imposing Barringer, the wilting strains of Howard Scopp's latest ditty, "Swoon for Me," gave us a lift. Herbert "Superman" Limpert, carrying under one arm Loretta Vitille and under the other arm Marie Grillo, at that moment elbowed himself between us. We recovered our equilibrium in time to see Madeline Molinari and Mario Taddeo sneaking in a side door. We supposed they had forgotten their invitations.

In the hall we met Ann McGovern, Louis Esposito and Beatrice McEntee, who accompanied us to the gym. Rose Knadjian, Gloria Mangan and Mildred Hartford had decorated it very artistically, and they had Carl Romano to thank for getting them all the chairs and tables they needed. The chairs, by the way, came from the "Home of Eternal Rest" run by Lou Mattia and Jerry Cappiello. The fragrance of flowers permeated the room. They had been donated by Margie Wyre who, together with Val Larrison and Viola Flack, runs a large florist business.

As we looked around the room we saw one of our former class advisers, Mr. Hagaman, who is now head of the Hagaman Hydrogen Sulfide Company. Among the celebrities at his table were Bill Robertson, the Broadway star, with Ruth Hanners, his leading lady, and Ann Grasso and June Perry, the two lovely models from the Jerry Nusbaum agency. They were accompanied by their press agents, Michael Romano and Joseph Koles.

As the ceremonies were about to begin, Bob Ryan, who was in charge of the affair, escorted us to our seats. John Farina, one of radio's top comedians, took over as master of ceremonies. He had with him Hollywood's own Joanne Bocofer who later enacted a scene from her current film "Morocco," in which she co-stars with handsome Bob Gialanella. The film was adapted by Theresa Salerno from the book, "The Morocco Story," written by Nancy Soriano and Julia Tarantini. Then the famous dance team of Frank Carlucci and Clara Milano performed to the rhythmic playing of Evelyn Zecca, the "Keyboard Sensation." Later Evelyn and the famous violin virtuoso, Frank Scocozza, played a duet for us that was really out of this world."

Miss McKenzie, from her corner table, smiled and nodded to each alumnus as he passed. To each who stopped to chat for a moment, she gave a small card which advertised "The McKenzie School for 'Pec-yool-yuh' Persons." However, as most of those present couldn't read without their glasses, her efforts to get new pupils were hopeless.

The dancing had begun, and Larry Salerno with his orchestra, that had just finished an engagement at Frank de Pietro's Twenty-four Club, relieved Carmen Cicero and his boys on the bandstand. Well-known members of these bands were Ralph Tubello, Thomas Rizzolo, Jack Kennedy, and Fred Schirm. Hortense Perillo, rated as a second Kate Smith, was warbling a lovely new ballad which had brought its author, Eugene Lowery, a tidy sum in royalties. During the brief intermission, the boys of the band made a bee-line for the corner where refreshments were being dispensed by Ralph Caprio and Jessie Mattia.

As we inched our way to them, we were almost knocked down by the famous composer, Dick Oliver, who glided by with Marion Farrow. Smooth dancers, like Bob Biunno and Dorothy Lynch, were on the floor knocking elbows with Barbara Cronheim and John Ryan, and Gloria di Lorenzo and Russell Sinoway.

All this confusion proved too much for Gerard Anderson. As he swooned, three prominent doctors, Ralph Angelillo, Beatrice Gordon, Angela Russomanno, and a swarm of nurses rushed up. Among the women in white were Bernice Doolittle, Marge Dolan and redheaded Helen Graham.

After this excitement had died down, we enjoyed a famous choral group, including Anita Nelson, Kathryn Johnson, Dorothy Davis, Ada Wilson and Elaine Gregory. They sang most soulfully one of the hit songs from the Broadway musical extravaganza, "One Ticket to Paradise."

As the applause subsided, our M.C. introduced some charming members of promoter Michael Yanzuzzi's new revue which was to open at the Twenty-Four Club in two weeks. The bevy of beauties included Theresa Lynch, Sada Markosian, Corinne Runyon and Angela Del Beccio. Their smart costumes, created by that famous designer, Paul Jacobson, were almost as lovely as the girls themselves.

Over in the other corner, we saw Elmer Greenhalgh talking earnestly to Marie Rizzolo, Ann Conte, Maude Patterson and Rose Caruso. As we sidled up closer to listen, we heard Elmer proclaiming, "Now the square of x minus the log of z equals 30. Do you get it?" Blank looks greeted him, for none of the girls had taken "Trig." Philip Antonucci and George Beardsley had been thinking of explaining the problem to the girls; but when Elmer failed they didn't even try.

The loud rolling of drums brought our attention back to the bandstand. The M.C. then announced that a prize was to be given to the smallest girl present. The contestants, Marie Chirico, Ann Nico-demo, Mary Beth Quinnan, Elaine Klein and Edna May Snyder lined up along the wall. The prize finally went to Ann who was rated tiniest.

CLASS PROPHECY (Concluded)

As we strolled about we discovered Ann Desimone, Ado Castelluccio, Mary Frascella and John De Falco just checking their coats. Theresa Scudese, Sam Zarra, Colleen Rowe and Ray Smalling were also late as they had just arrived from their farms at Metuchen. All of them greeted us cheerily and we were glad that Bob had called this reunion. Oh's and ah's greeted the next performers as they mounted our little improvised stage. Gladys Hector, Lola Fortunato and Viola Flack, arrayed in lovely costumes, gave us a stirring interpretation of an Indian Rain Dance.

We had been wondering what the tantalizing aroma that came from the basement was. Joseph Zanelli, now head chef at the Essex House, explained that it was a batch of souvenir spice cookies Iris Pettiford, Catherine Mitchell and Constance Thomas were mixing up. We had to be content with the promise that we could have one when we left.

As girls' voices reached us, we turned around to see Marie Turriziani, Christine Green, Genevieve Ambroselli and Mocille Thomas who were standing on a raised platform at the end of the room. They were singing a tune that had been written especially for them by Marvin Greenberg and Jean Puma, a noted songwriting team.

Many of our former classmates who had gone into the different branches of the service back in 1944 had liked military life so much that they had remained as members of Uncle Sam's armed forces. The Air Corps Captains were Len Berman, Jack Fitzsimmons and Anthony Falzarano. Resplendent in Navy blues were Ensigns Thomas D'Alessandro, Michael Russonella and Joseph Timpano. Mary Liapis, Florence Megaro and Rose Viviani looked very snappy in their Navy uniforms, too, for they had decided to stay on with the Waves.

At one of the ringside tables we saw Florence Fox, Gloria Bohler and Yolanda Russomano, who are now co-editors of a new fashion magazine called "The Latest Trend." These girls were all editors of our 1944 yearbook and that experience helped them greatly. Some members of their staff, who were in charge of the fashion section, were also present. They were Alice Donahue, Sylvia Helfin and Theresa Esposito. The star feature writers, Lois Earles, Audrie Ciarkowski and Catherine Ianacone, sat with them.

A ripple of laughter came from all who were present when Grace Smith, with her aides, Thelma di Domenico, Tessie Frese and Dorothy Dalton, started collecting money for the "Homeless Dog Fund." Grace was well remembered from high school days when she was always begging for contributions to one cause or another. This particular fund had been started by Peter Primamore and Jean Nazaretta who were both members of the S.P.C.A.

Eleanor Krazeski and Ruth Harte, owners of an exclusive little dress shop in the Oranges, had graciously offered to carry desserts to the different tables. Their inexperience showed when they spilled down the front of Marie Kennedy's new dress, a beautiful blanc mange created by Gwendolyn Allen. The girls apologized and offered Marie a new dress. As some had splashed on Amy Smith's skirt, she also was in luck.

Cries of "Hold that pose" and "Watch the birdie" echoed through the room, and then we saw who was causing the disturbance. It was Rose Berberian, Corinne Ganny and little Audrey La Croix snapping pictures of the elite gathering. Then Thomas Randazzo ambled over with his two assistants, Filomena Tobia and Rose Trancone, and announced that he would take a picture of the entire group. There was much pushing and shoving because everyone was anxious to be seen. Grace Cellini, Lena Caruso and Marie Monaghan were on the verge of tears as Dorothy Brown and Elizabeth Safford had stepped on their pretty dancing slippers. Lucille Miele was giggling because Jean Westfield's hair was tickling her face. Lena D'Alessio and Ida Buoncore couldn't see anything funny in the procedure until Lucille gave a loud sneeze just as the picture was snapped.

When our M.C. shouted for everyone to clear the dance floor, we drifted back to our seats wondering what was coming next. It was an old-fashioned square dance. Among the couples hurrying to the floor were Marie Vito and Tony De Pasquale, Vivian Lewis and Paul Parker, Gloria Maffie and Andrew Monda. The Virginia Reel and Turkey in the Straw soon left them breathless. When Florence Donatiello and Michael Grasso suggested repeating the dance, they collapsed into nearby chairs and gratefully accepted the cold drinks offered to them by Kathryn Nelson, Barbara Chisholm and Ruth Sundberg.

We saw that Rachelle Wechsler, Bessie Williams and Irene Pollack were getting tired. They wanted to go home. Even though they were yawning, Eleanor Snyder and Eugenia Colaiacova couldn't be persuaded to leave the joyful gathering. Soon, however, everyone realized it was late and decided to call another reunion in five years. They were sorry they had waited so long this time. The couples left arm in arm. The last few to go were Rose Codella, Sarafino Maccioli and Catherine Pollack.

The deserted room seemed sad and lonely. The Class of June, 1944, had left B. H. S. for the second time.

"B" GIRLS

After four years of hard gymnastics, the class of June, 1944, sends forth her group of "B" girls. Through faithful work and good sportsmanship they have attained a high standard in the fundamentals of physical education. This achievement will always remind them of the fun and pleasure they had while working for their "B's."

RALPH ANGELILLO—Ralph was awarded his major B for two years' service as football manager.

LEN BERMAN—Lenny earned letters in both track and cross-country. He is a city champ in the 880-yard run.

FRANK CARLUCCI—Frank was a letter winner in baseball in 1943. He won his second letter when, as captain, he led the bowling team through a successful season.

LOUIS ESPOSITO—Lou is a two-letter man. He earned his first letter in baseball and his second in football.

JACK FITZSIMMONS—Jack earned his letter as a member of Barringer's 1943 cross-country team.

PETER PRIMAMORE—Pete went out for cross-country in his last year and earned his letter.

TOM RANDAZZO—Tom won his letter as a member of Barringer's 1943 football team.

MICHAEL RUSSONELLA—Mike was the regular third baseman on our 1943 team. His .320 batting average was a big factor in his selection as a member of the Star-Ledger's all-city team.

All Out for Victory!

In these challenging days, requiring the utmost effort of every one of us to bring a complete victory to our country and a lasting peace to the world, the educational front—like the battle front and the production front—plays a vital role.

The year book today has a new and powerful motif: to reflect the school in war time.

Likewise, the year book today has a richer meaning than ever before: it is engraved with memories of friends and classmates who will be setting forth to all the fronts.

You rightfully expect a year book that will hold a proud place in the annals of your school, and for these reasons we dedicate our trained skills, our modern plant, and our experienced services to the fulfillment of your most discriminating requirements.
